Saint Martin’s University OER Review Stipend Requirements

This $100 stipend has been created to encourage faculty to explore using OERs in their instruction. Up to five stipends will be awarded in spring 2019. This award is open to both tenure-track and adjunct faculty members.

Stipend recipients will be required to complete the following by June 1, 2019:

- Schedule a consultation with the Information Literacy Librarian to discuss review process and conduct a preliminary search.
- Select an OER textbook or three related modules that could be used for a class.
- Write a brief review of the resource(s), using the Open Textbook Library review criteria (https://open.umn.edu/opentextbooks/reviews/rubric).
- Submit a brief reflection on how you might use and/or modify the resource(s) for your course, how it might impact your course design, and an estimate of cost savings for students based on your most recent course text and typical enrollment.
